1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 7-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims should clearly indicate that the "further irradiating" step takes place on a subsequent rotation of the substrate.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being fully anticipated by Kawase '063.

With respect to figure 8, the formation of the clock groove (501) which is oriented perpendicular to the tracks is produced by multiple exposure of the resist with the beam deflected radially by a small pitch so that the successive exposure overlap. (5/4-14).

5. Claims 7-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kawase '063, in view of Van et al. EP 0304312.

In Van et al. EP 0304312, see the description with respect to figures 5a and figures 6a, where the first exposure using two beams forms two tracks (figure 5a) and the second shifts the beams so that the leftmost beam overlaps with the previously exposed region by "L". The formation of a metallized stamper and the use of the stamper to in embossing or injection molding is disclosed. (col. 6/lines 41-54).

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify the disclosure of Kawase '063 by further in the mastering process to include metallization and the formation of optical disks based upon the resist pattern as taught by Van et al. EP 0304312 as this is entirely conventional in the art and provides for a more robust stamper than the resist alone.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
